4. The Office of Foreign Missions was established by the Department of State on 1 October 1982. We have been working very closely with State personnel in the establishment of the Office and the implementation of its mission. It is anticipated that the Agency will detail a person on a full-time basis to the Department of State to work on foreign missions issues.

5. To alleviate some of the financial burdens Agency personnel experience when accepting domestic assignments, the Agency has implemented a number of benefits authorized by GSA which include:

- a. An increase in the miscellaneous expense allowance.
- b. Separate househunting trips for the employee and spouse.
- c. Increase in temporary quarters subsistence for the first ten days.
- d. Increasedthe amount of reimbursement connected with the sale of residence at the old official station and/or the purchasing of a residence at the new official station.

We are continuing to actively support other GSA initiatives which will do away with the high rate geographic area subsistence allowance and other actions designed to make domestic transfers more attractive.
